

That's what iMED Healthcare stands for – Provision of Advanced Medical Products, with considerable benefits to their users.

Jointly reaching for the same targets

In today's world with its high speed innovations, and technological progress, it is impossible for small to medium sized Healthcare units to maintain leadership in all the different segments of clinical laboratory diagnostics, and hospital equipment. Efficient collaboration with adequate and appropriate partners is therefore of essence to be able to offer an attractive portfolio of products and services.

iMED Healthcare Ltd

iMED Healthcare Ltd is a young, dynamically growing company specialized in supply of modern and reliable technology for use in medical laboratory diagnostics, dental and general hospital equipment. Since its foundation in year 2004 as a partnership the whole company is dedicated to providing products and services of best quality to clinical and private laboratories, clinics, NGO's and hospitals.

MISSION AND OBJECTIVE

Our mission and objective is to meet and conform to our Clients requirements and expectations. Our motivation and drive is our dream to be central in facilitation of superior Healthcare in the region, by providing a total package solution in provision of goods and services.

THE MANAGEMENT TEAM

The Company is headed by a Chief Operations and Technical Director, a Sales Department, Technical department, Purchasing and Stores department and Accounts Department. The team has a combined 13 years of experience in handling of Healthcare products, marketing and business development and business management. We also enlist appropriate technical support from industry specialists and Professionals in the quality control areas in the supply of products to our clients.

BRIEF OVERVIEW

For historical reasons, initially the business was mainly focused to diagnostic and laboratory supplies, but step by step the product portfolio has expanded with the target to offer adequate solutions for all aspects of routine diagnostics, hospital and medical equipment, and all pharmaceutical drugs, both generic and patented. At the same time we are always looking for new technologies and products in order to make specific and enhanced healthcare supplies accessible whenever and wherever needed. As a supplier according to the standards of IVD and medical devices directive 98/79/CE, we supply equipment and reagents for use with a variety of popular hospital equipment, clinical chemistry, hematology and coagulation analyzer systems, as well as urine test strips and rapid tests to a number of customers in the country, and the East African region. By using iMED Healthcare sourced products, our customers can achieve considerable cost saving effects without any compromise in respect to product quality, performance and reliability.
